

Goal Reflection

Before this quarter my WPM was 206. I studded a lot before and in the beginning of the book I studded a bit but as it goes on my studying gets better and not as frequent. I normally don't read out loud so it was a great way to build up my confidence. I think my reading skills got better.

This goal was beneficial for me because it improved my oral reading skills and my confidence to read out loud. I normally don't read out loud to anyone because I am very self-conscious of my voice. So this goal has definitely been beneficial for me.

For my goal it only took me about nine days. I think that was because it was over Christmas break that I mostly worked on it so I had all day. It probably took me about twenty four hours for me to complete. the book itself is over nine hours long. the routine I used to complete this project was I would wake up every morning and get all my stuff done, by then it was normally about noon and around then I think is when I read better. I think just reading out loud helped me become a better oral reader.

I did my best at reading around noon and after I had been reading for a while. As I continued to complete the book it got easier.

The easiest part about this project was probably choosing what book to read. My little sister is a big reader so she will read a book and if she thinks I will like it she gives it to me to read. the most challenging part was probably getting the memos off my ipod and onto a disc. I am really horrible with most technology so I had to have my dad come over and help me do that but it was hard to find a time for him to be able to come over. Over all I am really happy with my work. I don't think I could have done much better
